The bandits, who fled through the window from which the employe is pointing, lined four clerks, including (l. to r.) John Hurley, Gerald McLaughlin and James F. Mahoney up against a wall and ordered them to keep their mouths shut. McLaughlin said the bandits, dressed like stevedores, inquired, "Are you ready to pay off?" on entering the office.

Bus Union Rejects Bid to Avert Strike

A new threat of a strike on the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway developed today when the company's bus drivers and mechanics voted 1101 to 815 to reject a compromise proposal designed to avert a walkout on the lines serving more than a half million commuters.

Tax Split Bill Gains

Support for the Community Property Bill, which is designed to save Massachusetts taxpayers from $32,000,000 to $100,000,000 annually, was reported mounting today, following announcement that a public hearing on the measure will be held Tuesday at the State House before the joint legislative committee on legal affairs.

The primary purpose of the bill in its present form is to give married couples the opportunity to split their income by filing separate tax returns and thus reduce the individual levy.

Enactment of the measure would place Massachusetts in line with the progressive states of California, Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Washington, Nevada, Idaho and Oklahoma, where the Community-Property law has been in successful operation for years.

Rep. Louis Lobel of Brighton, House chairman of the legal affairs committee, made the announcement of Tuesday's hearing following a brief conference with Sen. Edward M. Rowe of Cambridge, Senate chairman. The hearing will open at 10:30 a. m.

"The committee has obtained Room 436, which is the largest hearing room obtainable in the State House," Lobel said. "All interested citizens are invited to be in attendance and all will be given a hearing."

Committee leaders acted speedily to set the hearing date following prompt acceptance by the House and Senate of a legislative rules committee report favoring admission of the bill at the present session.

As the President stepped off the plane he commented that the trip had been a little rough.

At the airport to greet the party were about 25 World War I veterans of the 35th, including some members of Battery D, 120th Field Artillery, the unit Truman commanded. They were headed by Maj. Gen. Ralph Truman, his cousin.

The President planned to drive to Grandview to visit his 94-year-old mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman, who has been seriously ill.

Steel Pier Help Quits In Union Contract Row

Twenty National Maritime Union maintenance men, preparing the Boston-Provincetown steamer Steel Pier for the season's start on Sunday, were called off the ship today at Foster's Wharf by NMU leaders. Pickets were stationed on Atlantic ave.

The vessel was owned last year by the Massachusetts Steamship Co. which signed a contract covering crew members with NMU, but the ship was sold to the Boston-Provincetown Steamship Line, Inc., which signed up with the Seafarers International Union. The maintenance men, who had nearly finished their work, were hired without regard to union affiliation.

Churchill Faces Surgery, London Paper Says

LONDON, June 6 (INS)—The London Evening News reported today that Winston Churchill shortly would undergo an internal operation.

The newspaper added that the operation was not serious but probably would incapacitate the former prime minister for about a month. Churchill is 74.

The compromise proposal of the State Arbitration Board called for a pay increase of 10 cents an hour. The union originally had sought a 15-cent an hour increase, and a number of union leaders had insisted that the new contract include a reduction of the work week from 48 to 40 hours.

George Maguire, president of the AFL union's Salem local, said that a strike vote before Tuesday appeared likely, but added the union's next move had not been definitely decided.

The bus company is one of the most important in the state, serving 79 communities.

A strike was averted at the last moment several days ago when Charles H. Cole, chairman of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, offered the compromise proposal. The proposal, rejected by the union today, had not been acted on by the company. Company spokesmen said it would have added $850,000 to the cost of wages annually.

Announcement of the union vote was made at a meeting of the presidents of the 11 locals. A report of the vote will be made to the locals within the next few days, a spokesman said.

Goebbels, Chandler Tie Charged at Trial

The chief government prosecutor at the treason trial of Douglas Chandler told the jury in federal court today that he would call as a witness a man who daily carried the propaganda views of Dr. Josef Goebbels to Chandler and other commentators on the Nazis' America-beamed broadcasts.

Special Asst. Atty.-Gen. Oscar R. Ewing also told the jury that Chandler, in 1941, was "eager" to broadcast to this country and considered it his "imperative duty" to keep the United States out of the war and "safe from Roosevelt."

He chose the pseudonym Paul Revere because he said the original Paul Revere saved America from the British and he was going to do the same in the 20th century," said Ewing.

Fourteen men—two of them alternates—were accepted as jurors for the trial after they told Judge Francis J. W. Ford, among other things, that they had no scruples against finding a defendant guilty of a crime punishable by death.

For the first time in 39 years, according to best available information, a federal jury here was ordered locked up for duration of a trial when Judge Ford ordered the Chandler jury "sequestered."

Ewing emphasized that Chandler owed allegiance to the United States, not only by reason of his birth in Chicago, but because he swore allegiance in obtaining a U. S. passport in Yugoslavia in 1914 and renewing it at intervals. He was in Florence, Italy, in 1941, according to Ewing, and had negotiated with the Fascist government for overseas broadcasts when the Germans sought him out and paid his way to Berlin.

After he had declared he preferred broadcasting from Berlin, "Chandler said Roosevelt was taking this country into war for political reasons and was under Jewish influences," said the prosecutor.

Ewing said Chandler did not have a passport to go to Germany and could not get one because the United States was then removing its nationals from that country, but the Nazis arranged for his entry.

"The government will show," he said, "that the man who was in charge of the overseas broadcasts to the United States held daily conferences with Dr. Goebbels and afterwards would call in all his radio commentators, Chandler included, and tell them what Goebbels said."

The jury selected to try Chandler are: William D. Chappell, Wellesley, insurance broker; foreman; James Meldrum, Jr., Clinton, loan officer; Edward Bergeron, New Bedford, insurance business; Fred W. Downs, Fall River, machinery shipper; William G. Whiteacre, Brookline, machine assembler; Francis F. Flanagan, Boston, electrician; Gardner O. Wheelwright, Danvers, purchasing agent; William H. Ryder, Clinton, real estate; Raymond F. Eldridge, Brockton, advertisement writer; Ernest J. Gallagher, Boston, installer; Chester S. Thayer, Haverhill, personnel director; Frederick W. Gormley, Boston, accountant.

Alternates are: Howard G. Deering, Malden, superintendent; Thomas J. Bailey, Lowell, building superintendent.

Judge Ford announced he had deferred ruling on a plea by the defense that the court here lacked jurisdiction.

Under the law a defendant charged with crime committed abroad or on the high seas must be tried in the jurisdiction of the place where he is first brought in the United States.

Chandler was brought to this country on an Army plane under orders to Washington. The plane first passed over the United States in Maine. Weather forced it to land at Westover Field, Chicopee Falls, from where it proceeded to Washington after a delay.

The government and defense were each allowed 20 peremptory challenges in the picking of the jury but the government used only five and the defense only three.

All those accepted gave negative answers to the following questions agreed upon by both sides to test their "indifference": Are you related to the defendant?

Have you any personal interest in the case?

Have you formed or expressed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant?

Are you conscious of any bias or prejudice?

Have you any opinion or scruples that prevents you from finding the defendant guilty of a crime punishable by death?

Are you an employee of the United States government?

Is any member of your immediate family a present or former employee of the Department of Justice?

Do you know counsel for the government—Special Assts. Atty.-Gen. Oscar R. Ewing and Tom DeWolf and Asst. U. S. Atty. Gerald J. McCarthy—or for the defendant—Claude R. ... and ...

Kelly Asked For $2500, Witness Says

City Council President John B. Kelly told him and his partner it would cost $2500 for a garage permit and more if there was any opposition to it in the council, Anthony J. Donato of Watertown testified today in Kelly's bribe trial in Suffolk Superior Court.

SECRET BRIDE—Diana Adams (above), ballerina at Gotham's Ballet Theater, was secretly married to Hugh Laing, star of the sea show.

Donato, who had been warned previously by Judge John V. Sullivan that he might incriminate himself, said he understood his rights and was willing to testify.

Questioned by Asst. Dist. Atty. Frederick T. Doyle, Donato said he and his partner, John Comoletti of Cummins hwy., Mattapan, visited Kelly's house in Homes ave., Dorchester, last June 8 in connection with obtaining permits for a garage they planned to build in Dorchester ave.

"He told us garage and gas stations were a big thing in Boston and they ran into big money like liquor stores and funeral homes," Donato said.

"What did he say about liquor stores?" asked Doyle.

"He said a liquor store would cost $18,000 to $30,000 and we asked what it would cost us to get a garage permit.

"He said it would cost $2500 for everything. We asked what for and he said he had to pay off seven or nine men in the council behind the curtain. He said it would cost us $2500 if there was no opposition but that the cost would be more if there was opposition. He said it was only $2500 because he was a friend of Comoletti.

"Johnny screamed and I nudged him and said, 'Let's get out of here.'"

He testified Kelly followed them to their car outside and asked what they had in mind.

"I told him about $200 and he said he wouldn't pick up a pencil for that. Then I said, 'How about $500. Then, would that be better?' but he said 'No.' Then he told us, 'Don't do nothing until you hear from me.'"

Donato said he and Comoletti filed application for the permits last Aug. 15 and that he attended a hearing Sept. 25 at which there was no opposition. He said the chairman announced he would hold the hearing open as Kelly wished to speak on the matter.

He identified a letter on City Council stationery, signed by Kelly and dated Sept. 25, informing him he was opposing the petition at the request of abutters to the property.

In his opening to the locked-up jury, Doyle said the state would produce abutters who would deny they had asked Kelly to oppose the petition.

Donato took the stand shortly before the noon recess and was about to testify about the meeting in Kelly's home when he was advised on his rights by Judge Sullivan. The judge said:

"This may be an appropriate time to suggest to the witness that if evidence should disclose that a request was made for money reward or gift, or that money, reward or gift was promised to this defendant that he should be instructed, and I now

Bandit Trio Gets $7000 Payroll in South Boston

Three khaki-clad gunmen today grabbed a payroll estimated at between $7000 and $8000 from the offices of the Jarka Corp., stevedoring contractors, on the street level of Commonwealth Pier, South Boston, shortly after it was delivered by Brink's Express. After scooping up the money, the men leaped through a window onto the pier and ran to Northern ave., where a fourth man was waiting in a black Buick sedan. The men made their getaway before the registration could be noted.

The payroll grab followed by less than 24 hours a $10,000 stick-up by three armed men at the office of Stone's Express on Second st., Cambridge. In the Cambridge holdup the men, also khaki-clad, used a driver as a decoy to get into the cashier's office.

In today's robbery Gerald McLaughlin of Juliet st., Dorchester, a time clerk for the Jarka Corp., said that the three men who entered that office asked, "Are you ready to pay off?"

The clerk told police he informed the men it would take a little time and was then faced with an automatic in the hands of his questioner. McLaughlin and three other clerks were lined up against a wall and ordered to keep their mouths shut. The other clerks were James F. Mahoney, Herman st., Winthrop; John D. Hurley, Spring st., Cambridge, and John Housell, Calumet st., Roxbury.

One of the men turned the key in the lock, McLaughlin said, while another took the money from the desk. All three were armed with automatics, he said.

The men were described as follows: No. 1, 35-year-old, 5 feet, 5 inches tall, 150 pounds, medium built and light chestnut hair. He was wearing khaki pants and a light khaki zipper jacket and a cap. No. 2, 30 years old, 5 foot 2 or 3 inches tall, swarthy complexion and dark hair. He was wearing a khaki field jacket. No. 3, 40 years old, 5 feet, 5 inches tall, 145 pounds and light complexion. He was wearing a khaki windbreaker.

Descriptions furnished police by victims of the Cambridge holdup tallied in a number of details with the descriptions of the men who robbed the Jarka office.

In the Cambridge holdup the three unmasked men entered the express company office from the Bent st. entrance. They met Frank O'Toole, Beacon st., Cambridge, a driver, and using him as a decoy forced Cashier John Little, 38, Prospect Hill dr., North Weymouth, to open the cashier's cage. O'Toole, Little and two other men were backed to a wall while one of the holdup trio emptied the boxes containing the day's receipts.

Police informed of the holdup chased the bandit car, but lost it in the darkness near Kendall sq.

The youthful prince, brother of the present ruler of Iran, said his further education would be acquired in a tour to the United States to obtain first hand knowledge of various phases of the nation's life which could be used for the social and economic betterment of his own country.

He emphasized, however, that his tour had no connection with the Iranian government nor was it of an official nature.

During his tour, he said, he planned to get first-hand knowledge of such things as mining, textile manufacturing, desert agriculture, civic administration, hospital and housing programs and community and social health and youth services.

Warrants Issued For Man, Boy, 15, in Lynn Murder

Herbert Douglas, 26, Graves rd., Lynn, a former employe of Harry Rosen, 63-year-old manufacturer, whose battered body was found in his factory office yesterday, was charged with the murder today. A warrant charging Douglas with beating Rosen to death was issued to Detective Francis Brodine in Lynn district court. Clerk of Courts Joseph Cole also issued a warrant charging delinquency, in connection with the crime, against Roy F. Shurger, Jr., 15. Both Douglas and Shurger are sought by police.

The boy is the son of Mrs. Laura Drouin Shurger, 34, Graves rd., Lynn, whom police also were seeking in the hope that she may know his whereabouts.

Harry Rosen

Investigations said Douglas and young Shurger were seen in the vicinity of the victim's plant in East Lynn late Wednesday afternoon, a few hours before Rosen was slugged to death in what police termed a robbery-murder that netted less than $75.

The Shurger boy, it was learned, was the pawn in a custody battle in Essex Probate Court nine years ago. His paternal grandparents, residents of Ithaca, N. Y., and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Drouin of Lynn, a widow, both sought his adoption in 1938, after his parents had been separated for several years.

Mrs. Drouin was finally awarded adoption of the boy. Recently, the youth has been dividing his time between his grandmother's home and his mother's camp in Graves rd.

State Det. Jeremiah J. Sullivan and Lynn Insp. John B. Hines said that Douglas and the boy were last seen yesterday in Peabody, after taking a bus from Lynn.

Dr. Lawrence F. Cusick, medical examiner, said Rosen had been dead about 12 hours when found. His autopsy disclosed that death was due to multiple fractures of the skull and brain lacerations from the blows of a blunt instrument.

In the police broadcast the woman was described as about 33, with dark bobbed hair and "pretty teeth." One of her companions was described as 26 years old, weighing 200 pounds, and about 5 feet 10. The other, a youth of 15, was described as 5 feet 11 and slender.

Rosen was found dead on the floor of the office of his plant in Silverlake, where he employed Robert Smith, 25, of Eastern ave., East Lynn.

Police said they found no death weapon although the plant, a converted garage, was stocked with hundreds of sledge hammers, steel bars, iron weights and other heavy tools. The Rosen plant manufactures range oil drums and tanks.

Two Place Ginsberg at Killing Scene

Benjamin Ginsberg, 47, of Arbutus st., Mattapan, on trial for murder in Suffolk Superior Court, was in and near the house where Solomon Weisman, 38, was found dead, and his wife, Etta, critically injured, last Jan. 18, two witnesses testified today.

Mrs. Doris Buchman, first-floor tenant in the Weisman house in Lucerne floor there at 11:35 a. m. Fifteen minutes later, after the woman was taken to the hospital, the officer said he saw Ginsberg on the sidewalk at Lucerne and Balsam sts.

Patrolman Herbert V. Spence testified he found Mrs. Weisman lying in a pool of blood on a bedroom floor there at 11:35 a. m. Fifteen minutes later, after the woman was taken to the hospital, the officer said he saw Ginsberg on the sidewalk at Lucerne and Balsam sts.

Spencer said he asked Ginsberg if he was a resident of the neighborhood. The defendant replied that he was, according to the officer, but denied that he had seen Weisman that day, although he was acquainted with him. Under cross-examination by Defense Atty. Samuel H. Cohen, the patrolman said Ginsberg's actions and appearance at that time "were not unnatural."

Special Officer Thomas V. McDonough told the court that he went to the Weisman home that noon and discovered the body in the basement while he was searching for the weapon with which Mrs. Weisman had been attacked. The State contends Ginsberg killed Weisman because the victim refused to book bets for him. The defendant's wife, Bertha, and his daughter, Lillian, 20, who will testify in his behalf next week, were present in the courtroom today.

Governor Renews Tax Program Plea

Disregarding all reports the Legislature would reject at least part of his $59,000,000 tax program, Gov. Bradford renewed his appeal for public support of his plan for new revenue in an address today before five service clubs at Hotel Sheraton, Worcester.

Even as the governor was speaking, the Republican-dominated legislative committee on taxation interrupted its second conference in the past 24 hours to announce it had reached no decision—indicating a sharp division of opinion on the program.

Some members of the committee, however, declared off-the-record that parts of the program—particularly a sales tax proposal—were sure to be rejected.

In another move indicating opposition to the governor's program, the State Senate voted 14 to 7 today against a move to abolish the State tax—line levy made on cities and towns to balance the State budget. The levy would be abolished under Bradford's program.

In his address at Worcester, the governor asserted that every cent from the program would go directly to cities and towns to keep down local tax rates. He declared his fight was for "home owners, farmers, businessmen and industrialists confronted with ruinous real estate taxes."

He pointed out that tax rates had doubled since 1918 and that the average rate had increased $12 per $1000 in the past year, with another rise of $7 likely this year unless something was done.

"Thirty-five per cent of all the wealth of Massachusetts is real estate. But real estate alone is carrying more than 70 per cent of all the costs of state and local government. The weight is growing heavier and heavier on that one place and it cannot much longer stand the strain."

He emphasized his program was one which would relieve local communities in the fields of education, welfare and highways.

"For example," he said, "proceeds from the much discussed sales tax would all go to education. Certain persons who never blinked an eye when shoes jumped from $5 or $6 to $10 or $15 a pair, or when shirts skyrocketed from $2.75 to $5 or $6, now are shedding tears over the 'inequitable sales tax.'"

He said the average working man would spend about 18 cents weekly on the sales tax to give his children better local education.

He said he had been warned he would hurt himself politically by fighting his tax program and said his answer was:

"I am not fighting for the political future of Bradford; I'm fighting for the future of our children; for our needy families; for our home owners, farmers, business men and industrialists and for cities and towns threatened with bankruptcy."

18 Fires Charged To Malden Youth

A 20-year-old Malden youth has signed a confession to setting 18 fires because he liked to see the fire trucks, police told Judge Elbridge G. Davis today in Malden court.

George J. White of Eastern ave., pleaded guilty to three charges and was held in $10,000 bail for the grand jury. White has been married and divorced, and is employed in a Malden cleaning establishment.

Senate Kills Move To Quiz Coffey

An order calling for an investigation of a Boston city councilor's allegation there were few members of the Massachusetts Legislature who "wouldn't take a buck" was rejected today by the Senate.

The House had previously adopted the order providing for the attorney general to inquire into the comments voiced by Councilor James Coffey at an open council meeting.

N. H. Acts to Control Girl Shows at Fairs

CONCORD, N. H., June 6 (AP)—Control of girl shows and gambling at country fairs is being considered by the New Hampshire legislature.

A House vote showed 144 to 96 in favor of limiting midway amusements, but lack of a quorum postponed final action until a later date. One committee reported favorably a plan calling for licensing of fair booths and signed statements as to the intended use of them.

Eat, Drink, Be Merry-- Recipe For Avoiding Ulcers

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 6 (AP)—The best way to avoid ulcers, according to Dr. Donald Cook of Chicago, is to throw away that girdle and keep the stomach filled with good food and drink.

Addressing the National Gastroenterological Assn. yesterday, Dr. Cook said a full stomach would prevent a pinching action which he described as the cause of ulcers.

There is no evidence, he said, that tobacco or alcoholic beverages produce ulcers.

"Good general health and mental outlook together with sufficient rest and relaxation and the regular taking of food and liquids combine to prevent neurogenic influences from acting through the primary cause to produce ulcer," he said, adding:

"The prevention of ulcer in women is chiefly dependent upon the avoidance of too severe corseting."

Dr. Cook listed Army and Navy medical findings which he said were helpful in the prevention of ulcers. Among the recommendations were:

"Do not go more than four or five hours without food.

"Do not go longer than one hour between meals without liquid.

"Sit up. Do not sit with the body slumped or flexed forward.

"Relax—do not be muscularly tense.

"Avoid shivering coldness.

"Do not wear wide, tight belts."

New Vaccine Halts Flu Epidemics

PHILADELPHIA, June 6 (AP)—A new vaccine capable of preventing influenza epidemics such as those that took 15,000,000 lives after World War I has been announced by Dr. Wendell M. Stanley of the Rockefeller Institute for medical research at Princeton, N. J.

Dr. Stanley, 1946 Nobel winner in chemistry, disclosed development of the new vaccine in a lecture before the Philadelphia section of the American Chemical Society last night.

He said the highly purified vaccine available without charge to manufacturers of biochemical products, causes no unfavorable reactions.

Some authorities, believing influenza to operate in a 30-year cycle, expect the next epidemic period to occur in 1948.

Nine More Bombs in British Mails

LONDON, June 6 (AP)—Scotland Yard reported today nine new letter bombs for Britons had been found in the mails, making a total of 20 discovered since early this week.

All 20 of the "murder by mail" letters had been posted in Turin, Italy. Dispatches from Jerusalem, meanwhile, said the so-called Stern Gang, Palestine Jewish underground group, had announced its European branch has been sending the bombs.

None of the bombs has been exploded, except in police tests which have shown them powerful enough to maim or kill a man.

The latest letters were brought across the channel by steamer late last night.

Housing Expediter Proposes New Type Bathroom Units

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Production of 25,000 units of a new type unit bathroom by Standard Fabrication, Inc., Chicago, is proposed by Housing Director Frank R. Creedon.

Creedon has asked Reconstruction Finance Corp. to grant the firm a guaranteed market contract for production of the units this year.

The housing expediter described the unit thus:

"The combination unit includes a bathtub with adjustable shower fixtures, toilet, wash basin, linen storage compartment below the wash basin, medicine cabinet, a 'convenience' cabinet and toilet tissue holder, continuous towel and grab bar, and water-tight baked enamel wall protector. The unit is two and a half feet wide, seven and a half feet long, and the enamel wall protector at the back is four feet high.

"The unit is different in appearance from conventional bathroom fixtures. The bathtub and toilet are in-line, with the lavatory suspended over them on a swivel, permitting the lavatory to be pivoted over the toilet or over the bathtub.

"Only four connections are required to install the unit—a sewer connection through the floor, a vent through the roof, and hot and cold water connections made above the floor level."

The price, the statement said, "is said to be comparable with conventional units, also installed."

Chicago Executive Dies in 24th-Story Fall

NEW YORK, June 6 (INS).—John F. Groff, 45, vice-president of Mandel Bros., Chicago, one of the nation's largest department stores, plunged to death today from his 24th floor apartment in the Hotel Warwick here.

Mrs. Groff, mother of 10-year-old twins, collapsed upon learning of her husband's death. She said her husband had been in poor health caused by overwork, but they had planned to return to Chicago June 10.

School Senior Held in Break

Donald A. Richardson, 17, Oxford rd., Westwood, who was scheduled to graduate with the senior class of Westwood High School tomorrow evening, was arraigned in Dedham District Court today with three juvenile school-mates charged with breaking and entering and larceny of a safe.

Richardson pleaded not guilty and his case was continued until June 13. He was held in $1000 bail. The juveniles were released in the custody of their parents.

Police charge the four boys into a loan company office on Washington st., Norwood, Monday night and stole a safe containing $667 in cash and $457 in money orders.

Police testified the boys having failed to open the safe, loaded it into a car and dumped it in a wooded section near the Westwood-Dover line. Their actions were noted by a neighbor who reported to police.

Westwood police said the four boys admitted being involved in eight additional breaks in Westwood homes in which they got $3000 worth of property which they pawned in Boston.

2d Suspect Quizzed in Providence Holdup

PROVIDENCE, June 6 (INS).—Police questioned today a second suspect in the kidnap-robbery of Edward and Joseph Sullivan, and the latter's wife, last April. A Norwich, Ct., man has been extradited and is awaiting grand jury action.

The second man was picked up on suspicion in New York. Police also were questioning him in connection with the $15,000 holdup of the United Electric Railway garage in Providence May 12. Joseph Sullivan is proprietor of the Providence Recreational Center.

Jim Roosevelt Jackson Day Fete Snubbed

LOS ANGELES, June 6 (AP)—A Jackson Day dinner gave California Democrats a touch of political indignation today.

The discomfort occurred after two principal speakers representing the national administration failed to appear at last night's $25 to $100-a-plate banquet.

Treasury Sec. John W. Snyder telegraphed regrets, pleading a suddenly called cabinet meeting as the reason he couldn't be here. Then Gael Sullivan, executive director of the Democratic party, withdrew after arriving here, citing a hurry call back to Washington for conferences with President Truman.

Los Angeles political writers openly viewed the situation as a political slap at James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President and chairman of the California State Central Committee, and as indication of a rift between conservative Democrats and supporters of Henry A. Wallace.

The principal speaker last night, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, talked on a host of subjects and peace, and said that "if we fall in the United States, how can any country hope to succeed."

"We hear people say, 'Let's fight Russia now while the atom bomb is ours,'" she said. "We could set Russia back 100 years, perhaps, but Russia can scatter her people. We are the most vulnerable to the atom bomb and we won't always be the only one that has the atom bomb."

"Are we willing to make sacrifices for peace that we made for war?"

C-54 Grounded for Inspection

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—All C-54 planes of the Army Air Transport Command were grounded throughout the world for one hour today while crews inspected vertical stabilizer bolts and attached fittings.

In Honolulu, where temporary suspension was announced earlier, it was said field reports had found stabilizer bolts and attached fittings "loose and sheared."

ATC said this condition never had been encountered in inspections of the C-54 fleet

It's high time straw hat prices came down to earth. Just say "imported Panamas", and most men shudder at the thought of plunking down an oversized bundle of cash. We think that's screwy—and we're doing something about it. So before you get your new straw, have a look at Bond's. We'll show you genuine Panamas—imported Panamas—that might well be in the high-hat brackets. We'll show you handsomely woven straws, the kind that keep their jaunty appearance. BARBARA BARKER

She's an attractive and talented teen who may "tool" her way to stardom in the musical world some day. She plays the baritone horn in the school band now, and participates in its exhibitions. Barbara likes popular as well as classical music. A traveler by nature she's covered a great deal of New England territory and hopes to "spread out to parts unknown" for future vacations. She's looking forward to a Provincetown trip with the school athletic association group in June. Her career is well mapped out, definitely decided on nursing. Her hobbies are roller skating and dancing. She cuts a "mean" figure on the rink, wears a figure-skating emblem and has almost reached the "A" class in the sport. Because Barbara is an attractive brunette with big brown eyes she wears summer colors well. She likes suits, and dressmaker styles are most becoming to her. 18 N.Y. Cops Give Own Time in War on Crime

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—A confidential message to all of New York city's 17,000 policemen has asked them to volunteer for four extra hours of duty every six days in order to cope with "a serious upsurge of crime."

Response to the request, for which the men receive no extra pay, was understood to be almost unanimous. Uniformed patrolmen wear plain clothes during the extra duty tour and wear lapel emblems to identify them to one another.

Police with private cars were asked to prowl the streets and were given police department license plates, five gallons of gasoline for each four-hour period and a quart of oil for every 28 hours of special duty.

Department members were asked to concentrate on crimes of violence and to watch for burglaries, automobile thefts and other crimes in sections where law violations have been on the increase.

Under a system established by the present police commissioner, Arthur Wallander, department members ordinarily get 48 hours off after six eight-hour days of duty instead of 32 hours free time, as they did previously.

Sen. O'Mahoney Visits His Native Cambridge

U. S. Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who spent his early life in Cambridge, returned today to take part in the centennial celebration of Cambridge High and Latin School, from which he was graduated in 1904.

The Senator was greeted at South Station by a delegation of Cambridge officials and later was guest at a municipal luncheon.

SYDNEY, June 6 (Via Mackay Radio).—The first step on my jaunt through southeastern Australia was the city of Canberra, the capital of the country, owes its existence to the fact the good people of Sydney and Melbourne possess an inbred dislike and mutual distrust of each other. After deliberation, the argument arose over which of the two great cities would be the capital, and the ensuing fight got so bitter that in self-defence the remaining Australians decided to locate their first city on a brand new site, away from the "satellite" of the two regions and between the two rival factions, also for safety reasons.

The site was chosen, bids were called for, and an American from Chicago named Walter Griffin won the architectural contest. The young man was brought over from the States to supervise his brainchild, but the government stuck its nose into the building of the place so much that Griffin finally left in a huff.

Canberra is built out in the middle of some of the best sheep land in the state, away from existing railroad lines and therefore difficult to get to. If it were not the capital of the country there would be no economic reason for the place at all. However, the spot chosen is quite pretty and with its loose rolling hills reminds one of a California valley—its gumtrees resembling our oak.

The city itself is laid out in a series of wide circles, divided up into various income brackets on the theory that if everyone in the same area had the same type of home nobody would try to outdo the other or feel socially inferior. This grouping theory sounded fine, but in practice it works in reverse, for Mrs. Canberra knows exactly how much her fellow townsman earns by her address.

I believe the only serious mistake made in the city's planning was the unimaginative architecture of the home. All the houses are of very good brick construction, but there is very little variety and the square red masses look like a bunch of children's blocks neatly arranged in a geometric pattern.

BIELEFELD, Germany, June 6 (AP)—Mrs. Heinrich Himmler, widow of the German Gestapo chief sought by Bavarian denazification officials for trial, is a patient in a lunatic asylum here.

New Russian Threat to U. S. Bared in Siberian Expansion

By RAY RICHARDS

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, June 6—Reports of gigantic industrial and population expansion in Siberia, strengthening Russia against the U. S. on the Asiatic frontier, were stacking up in Washington today.

The U. S. is doing nothing similar as a counter measure in Alaska.

The Soviet embassy itself was authority for one of the most significant Siberian stories.

The embassy hinted in its current "information bulletin" that Russia's atomic energy research has resulted in the building of a city of 750,000 population, mostly laboratories and chemistry-metallurgical plants.

The city is Novosibirsk, which until the rise of critical issues between Russia and the Democracies was a mere central Siberian village.

From Anchorage came the statement of a veteran Alaskan newspaper editor, Robert Atwood, that Russia has secretly populated bleak northeastern Siberia, across Bering Strait from American territory, with 2,500,000 new settlers.

Atwood said in a letter to the Alaskan congressional delegate, E. L. Bartlett, that at least one city, of 150,000 population, has arisen within three years near the narrow strait, in land Russia never before tried to colonize.

Fannie Hurst Writes: 'Mme. President?'

Can a woman become President of the United States?

A unique and interesting answer to that question is now given by Fannie Hurst, noted American novelist, in a candid, rollicking study of her own sex which will be published in next Sunday's Advertiser.

Miss Hurst pulls no punches in telling why the American woman has failed so far to come within serious consideration for the Presidency despite her great achievements in private and public affairs.

Her penetrating and lively comments are thought-provoking, to say the least.

Be sure to read what Fannie Hurst has to say about the chances of the United States ever having a madame president, in next Sunday's Advertiser.

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.—On Friday, June 15, 1945, about 9:30 A. M., a public hearing will be held in the office of the Board of Appeal, Room 907, City Hall Annex, in reference to the appeal of James G. Siragusa, asking to vary the terms of the Zoning Law, Chapter 48B, Acts of 1924, as amended, at premises 658A East Ninth Street, Ward 7, in the following respect: (Sections 4 and 19) Permit business (B-1) use of the necessary sign in a general residence (R-1C) district which is at variance with former decision of the Board of Appeal.

Home Garden Forum

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of the Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agriculture School.

Q—We have a large weed that keeps coming up in our lawn. How can it be killed?

A—There are several good chemical weed killers on the market which will give good results if used under proper conditions. The best ones contain 2-4D which will destroy broad-leaved plants without doing too much damage to the grass.

Q—What is the variety of celery that can be eaten green?

A—Summer Pascal is one of the new ones—that is good quality either green or bleached. If you cannot get plants, sow seeds in the open for a later crop.

Q—For several seasons we have not been able to grow good beets. The tops turn red and are small.

A—This sounds like a case of soil acidity. Suggest having soil tested for lime. When sowing beet seed, sprinkle wood ashes in the drill with the seed.

Q—What causes the leaves of our tomatoes to curl up and turn yellow?

A—Look close on the underneath side for aphids. These sucking insects cause trouble. Spray with Black Leaf 40 as directed on the bottle.

Q—Our peonies seem to be affected by some disease that causes the leaves and stems to turn brown. Do they need replanting?

A—Your description indicates peony blight. Spray or dust plants with bordeaux mixture.

Q—Is it too early to apply peat moss to shrubs?

A—No. If applied now, you will get a head start on the weeds.

N. Y. Subway Paralysis Predicted in Slowdown

NEW YORK, June 6 (INS).—The CIO transport Workers Union predicted total or partial paralysis of the New York subway system by Monday due to a shortage of fully-inspected cars. The union is staging a slowdown while demanding the ouster of Charles P. Gross, chairman of the City Board of Transportation.

Guards are refusing to shove passengers into cars so that doors can be closed. Union inspectors are inspecting only 16 cars a day instead of the usual 30.

CHAMBERLIN HONORED

Sunning at Point

On the Beach—Agnes Mooney of East Broadway, South Boston, finds the beach at City Point an ideal place to read her new novel and at the same time get an early sun tan. Miss Mooney is a City Hall employee.

Oh, Well, It Was Only a Temporary One, Anyway.

Still His Boss—Jake Lindsey, the Medal of Honor winner who quit his Veterans Administration job to re-enlist in the Army as a master sergeant, says hello to his former and present boss, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, during the VA chief's visit to Army recruiting station in Tremont st.

Short Span—This temporary bridge dampened the spirits of a few sightseers during a fair in Grenoble, France, when they learned it was a very, very temporary affair. The span was erected by a group of French military engineers, and when the first to cross got half way it toppled. Unfortunates grabbed hold of railings and held for all they were worth (at left), but one by one they finally toppled into the creek below.

VERMONT CAN END FLOODS

THE DISASTROUS Vermont flood is especially regrettable because it might have been prevented by the FULL DEVELOPMENT of the State's sadly neglected rivers.

For years flood control has been a controversial issue in Vermont. Only a few of the many dams and reservoirs which have been proposed have ever reached the blueprint stage.

As a consequence, VERMONT IS CONSTANTLY AND NEEDLESSLY MENACED BY INUNDATIONS.

The latest flood, which made more than ten thousand persons temporarily homeless in the Rutland area, should be regarded as a FIRE WARNING.

No person can say how widespread andinous the next overflow may be, but it is very possible that it could be worse than the catastrophe which took 84 lives and cost $30,000,000 property damage.

The statesmanlike thing for Governor West K. Gibson to do is to call in the United States Corps of Army Engineers, the world's outstanding organization of its kind, mask.

What must we do to make our State COMPLETELY safe from repetitious floods?

Then the Governor, using the prestige of his high office, should urge the Legislature to accept the Army Engineers' recommendations and really try to prevent the loss of our lives and property.

It is probable that the obstructive tactics private utilities would disappear in a second if some way were found to let them buy power at the government dams and to distribute the power at a reasonable profit.

Flood control without cheap and abundant hydroelectric power is a waste of the people's money.

THE DAM WHICH PRODUCES ELECTRICITY PAYS FOR ITSELF.

IT IS NOT A USELESS MONUMENT 9 PER CENT OF THE TIME.

IT ATTRACTS NEW INDUSTRIES AND EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES.

IT RAISES THE STANDARD OF LIVING IN THE HOME AND ON THE FARM, SINCE THE HOUSEWIFE OR FARMER WHO PAYS LESS FOR ELECTRICITY CAN AFFORD MORE LABOR-SAVING DEVICES.

Governor Gibson and a legislative commission will spend the State's money wisely if they visit the South, West and Northwest this summer and see how well rivers are being developed elsewhere with Federal funds which the people of Vermont are helping to raise.

Important Hearing

THE JOINT committee on legal affairs of the Massachusetts Legislature will hold a public hearing next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the State House on the Community Property Bill.

This hearing will determine whether the people of Massachusetts will be able to reduce their federal income taxes as much as one hundred million dollars or whether this large amount of money will be taken out of Massachusetts and distributed among the other 47 States.

Of course, it is vitally essential that the hundred million dollars stay home to benefit Massachusetts just as California money stays in California.

One hundred million dollars can be the difference between prosperity and stagnation, between employment and unemployment, between progress and retrogression.

Furthermore, it is grossly unjust for the Federal government to require a Massachusetts resident to pay a higher income tax than the Community Property State resident with an identical income pays.

The only practical way to end this inequity is to make Massachusetts a Community Property State so that husbands and wives may divide the family income and automatically reduce the federal tax as married couples do in Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Washington, Nevada, Idaho, Oregon, Oklahoma and California.

—SWINBURNE.

NOW FRED ASTAIRE has a dancing school of his own. When he was a lad of 7 his mother took him to a famous Manhattan dancing school. That was Ned Wayburn's school. The fact Fred's mother was really taking his sister Adele to the school and brought him along so he wouldn't feel bad about it. Mrs. Austerlitz (mother of the Astaires) said to Wayburn: "My daughter Adele is a born dancer. I don't know about Fred." A few weeks later Wayburn said to Mrs. Austerlitz: "You have two born dancers on your hands." And how right he was!

Fred Astaire

ASKING—Queries from clients. Q—Do you really believe in astrology? A—I have an open mind on the subject. Currently I am just checking on it. However, some highly intelligent and successful people have believed in astrology; for example, J. Pierpont Morgan. Q—I am one of the two sergeants who formerly wrote from the fighting fronts asking you to settle arguments. We are now sergeants, but still arguing. I say the Epsom Derby is a mile and a half race. The other ex-sergeant says I am wrong. I know I am right, but he demands you settle the bet. A—You are up against a cagy bettor. The Epsom Derby is often referred to as "a mile and a half race," but the exact distance is one mile, 885 yards. Q—Who introduced the song "Everybody Works but Father?" A—If it wasn't Lew Dockstader I am stuck for another stogie.

SIDELIGHTS—"Mrs. Josephine Cummo, 54, has given birth to four sets of twins in 10 years," writes a New Yorker. "She lives in the Borough of Manhattan. Let Brooklyn top that!" There are more large-sized females in the Bronx than in any other borough of New York city, but I don't know why. Anyway, that shop in the Bronx specializing in attire for the larger ladies now announces it has sizes from nine to sixty! "...What do they teach in colleges these days?" Writes a Chicagoan. "I asked my co-ed daughter the difference between a barnacle and a binnacle, and she didn't know."

ASIDES—To be in style the coming fall a woman must wear skirts only two inches above her ankles. So state the Parisian style dictators. Girls designed like Dietrich are reported viewing this edict with alarm. The success sign of the Zodiac is Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 19). More than 80 per cent of the people in the Hall of Fame were born under Aquarius. In the heyday of her career that red-haired beauty, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, enjoyed a good cigar. So did Lillian Russell. Do you claim to be a film fan with a good memory? Then tell us the title of the first talking film in which Greta Garbo appeared; the one advertised with the slogan "Garbo Talks!"

PASSING BY—Tony Galento. Well-known mass of manhood from New Jersey. Now Tony is a wrestler. It has been said all a man needs to be a wrestler is a strong back and a weak mind. Erin O'Brien-Moore. One of the many gifts of Texas to the stage and screen. Her papa was J. B. L. O'Brien-Moore, well-known Texas newspaperman. Among the plays in which Erin has appeared was "Skidding." That is the play on which the Judge Hardy's family series of films was based.

HORSES & WOMEN—Physical culture experts continue to maintain that housework is extremely beneficial in the matter of improvement of the feminine figure. They claim that much depends on how the housework is done. For example, when scrubbing a bathroom floor a woman should handle the task in a manner which will give the maximum benefit in figure development. She must use her arms, and bend in a systematic and energetic manner. The same is true of washing windows, handling the vacuum cleaner and making the beds. Shortly to be issued is a book of instructions intended to show a housewife how to achieve a dream girl figure by means of the exercise from housework. If your matrimonial mate needs streamlining don't fail to call this matter to her attention.

LONGSHOT—Speaking of longshots, Edward Cross, an Aberdeen, Scotland, bus driver, put up the equivalent of $3.36 for a football pool coupon and won $245,824. And no income tax to pay on it. A man winning that amount in this country would have to turn about $200,000 over to the government. As a bus driver Cross has been earning the equivalent of $19 a week.

"Would ya exchange this one for two dozen little ones? My wife'd NEVER believe me!"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1947, King Features Synd., Inc.

NEW YORK, June 6—None of our pretentious investigations of the union racket has done justice to the wicked practice of pledging American citizens, literally by the millions, to causes on which they have never been consulted and which they probably would reject.

On May 24 something calling itself the "American Trade Union Council—National Committee for Labor Palestine" published a declaration entitled "American Labor Demands a Jewish Palestine."

The "American Trade Union Council—National Committee for Labor Palestine" appears to be an improvised thing with no substantial existence, created for a limited political purpose.

William Green and Philip Murray, the boss unioners of the AFL and the CIO, respectively, are named as "honorary chairmen."

This is an old, transparent dodge of the propaganda business. Honorary chairmen never take the chair or any responsibility and their names are borrowed strictly for the prestige which they may confer.

The active, or non-honorary, chairmen here are Joseph Schlossberg, James Breslow and Max Zaritsky, all of New York unions.

So this is not, as the title suggests, a "national" council of committee for "Labor Palestine."

THE MERITS of Palestine are NOT being argued in this piece. The point I make is that it is wrong to say that "American labor demands a Jewish Palestine." The AFL recently acknowledged that "American labor" was not just the membership of the unions, but all Americans who earn their living by work.

Certainly, by that definition, American labor has never uttered any such demand. And even though we limit "American labor" to the membership of the AFL and the CIO, the answer is the same. Nobody had any authority to speak for all these people on this issue.

Green, we are told, said: "The 7,500,000 members of the AFL are wholeheartedly in favor of a Jewish homeland in Palestine."

If Green did say that, he belittled the intelligence of the very people he was trying to help. The American Zionists are too smart to believe that Green had any authority to speak for those 7,500,000 citizens on this subject.

They know the question never has been submitted to either the AFL or the CIO.

They know there are millions of American workers who, without prejudice, consider this to be none of their business.

THIS IS common practice in our union movement, whose dominating powers frequently reveal an absolute disregard for facts and for the right of the working citizen to think for himself on issues that are not union business.

The purpose of this union is to represent the members in dealings with the employers concerning wages and hours.

They go beyond their legitimate business when they meddle in things that are the business of the State Department. Here, Green and Murray interfere in a foreign religious dispute.

A few years ago the New York Newspaper Guild adopted a resolution opposing the belief. This occurred during the Hitler-Stalin alliance, which was equally guilty of the invasion and conquest of Poland.

The American newspapermen hadn't anticipated this coup and weren't on hand to beat it by their votes. Thus they were recorded as having endorsed the Berlin-Moscow axis.

The whole question was no proper business of this guild or any other union. But the law doesn't forbid such votes on such matters.

The National Maritime Union, one of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's proteges, once made a covert threat to blockade Spanish ports because Franco's Fascists had beaten the Communists in the civil war.

This was State Department business, but nevertheless a CIO union, badly infested with Communists, discussed a course of action that might have brought the United States to war with Spain. Under law, it has a right to do this.

IN NEW YORK a worker draws his envelope on pay night and discovers that he is $3 short. Without consulting him, the bosses of his union have ordered the employer to turn his $3 over to them for a fund to make a memorial to the late Sidney Hillman.

This worker might have detested Sidney Hillman and regarded him as opposed to the American form of government.

Yet if he opens his mouth he may be charged with un-unionlike conduct and fined and/or suspended.

None of the measures proposed in Congress or the state legislatures deals with this kind of imposition.

Unscheduled Exit—This 1947 sedan came to an unscheduled plunge when it accidentally rolled into an elevator shaft in a New York city garage from the fifth floor. The owner, Sydney Kane, was in the car at the time, but escaped with minor hurts.

HOLLYWOOD, June 6—Last Sunday, on my broadcast, Jane Wyman stated that she got her education at Warner's. Well, today Jack Warner promised to continue her education by giving her a 10-year contract which starts the 1st of January. Not bad for a little girl who left her readin' and writin' and 'rhythmic' as young to become an actress.

Jane Wyman to become an actress.

And by the way, our announcement that Jane and her legally wedded spouse, Ronald Reagan, were endowing Ronnie's alma mater, Eureka College, with a speech and arts building, brought forth a telegram of appreciation to me from Peoria, Ill., from Burrus Dickinson, president of Ronnie's college.

I told Ronnie I hoped Dixon wouldn't get mad and expect me to endow the Dixon College. "Hardly possible," said Ronnie, "that's a shoe factory now."

And here I've been bragging that I went to the Dixon college.

I'VE BEEN TOLD Celia Johnson is one British actress who can't be traced to Hollywood. Even though we nominated her for an Oscar in "Brief Encounter," the lady has preferred to remain at home with her husband, her children and her pick of English movies.

But hold on. Peter Viertel has just sold Milton Spertling "The Children"—a potent yarn about the displaced children wandering Europe today—and on his way back from the continent he stopped off in London to see Miss Johnson.

She was so very impressed with the story that she wants to do it, and what particularly intrigued her is that half of it will be made in Europe and half in Hollywood. She wouldn't mind a quick visit here to see what all the fanfare is about—and then back to home and husband.

JULES MUNSHIN, who made a hit on the Broadway stage in "Call Me Mister," is due in Hollywood June 15—for the movies, of course. Although he's been a comedian for years, the script first sent him by M-G-M called for him to play a gangster.

Munshin is a smart boy. He said he would wait until he reached here to talk to M-G-M, the studio that holds his contract. But I have more information for him. He's going to get a comedy role. That gangster script was somebody's mistake.

Another player from the "Call Me Mister" show, Betty Garrett (Mrs. Larry Parks), is also at M-G-M.

THEY USED to keep it very secret when a famous singer "dubbed in" a voice for a screen star. But ever since Al Jolson's singing made a sensation of Larry Parks, things are different.

Now it's Betty Hutton (no mean warbler herself) who will do a Larry Parks to Nadine Conner's beautiful Metropolitan voice when she opens and shuts her mouth for "One Fine Day" in "Dream Girl."

What's more, Betty doesn't care who knows it. "Yipes!" said my little blonde friend, "can you imagine what I would do to that aria from 'Madame Butterfly'?" One hog call from me and the guy would run out twice on poor Butterfly!

P. S. Betty, of course, continuing with her own singing. Miss Conner's voice is only in the sequence where Betty imagines she is an opera star.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Keenan Wynn telephoned me, and we could hardly hear for the noise.

What's going on? I asked him.

"Oh, it's just my day to have the two children, Ned and Tracy," he said, "and I'm playing with them."

He put Ned on the telephone to say hello.

"You see," said Keenan, "I have them every Monday and Tuesday, although of course they live with their mother, because I think that's as it should be."

Keenan goes out with various girls, but I'm sure there's no one he's really serious about. He himself has become very dignified, although his sense of humor never deserts him.

On June 19 that grand young lady of the screen, Dame May Whitty, will be 82 years old, and she has already received a birthday present, a wonderful part in "If Winter Comes."

Perhaps I should say M-G-M received the birthday gift because Dame May will be wonderful as the heroic Widow Perch who loses her only son in the war. She is in good company, too, with Walter Pidgeon, Deborah Kerr and Angela Lansbury.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD gathered at random: Errol Flynn and Mickey Rooney have a tough assignment on Sunday. They are playing tennis with Pauline Belz and Sarah Palfrey took. This team, but he didn't have the luck of the Warners.

the boys. The match is scheduled for Beverly Wilshire.

Joanie Benny is graduating with highest honors in her class from El Rodeo Public Grammar School in Beverly Hills. As a reward she is getting a carton of Hershey bar every week of her life from Jack Parr, who is replacing Jack Benny on his air show this summer. Parr, it seems, is a relative of the Hershey clan. He'd have to be, wouldn't he?

Sam Wanamaker's opening line in "Ever the Beginning" at Warners is "Well, here I am." Considering every studio in town tried to sign him, seems appropriate.

Una Merkel and her ex, Ronnie Burka, having dinner at the King's but that doesn't mean a reconciliation. Una recently had a heart attack. She and Jack Holt, who are together very often, are just old friends.

The N. Peter Rathvonn entertain tonight with a small dinner in honor of the J. Arthur Rank. The girl with John Lee Mahin at Charley Foy's was not Patsy Ruth Miller, his ex, but Barbara Bonnet, who looks enough like Patsy Ruth to be her twin.

When Ellen Ross, the M-G-M actress, confessed she married Bobby Anderson last Sunday, she was given a week's honeymoon by Arthur Freed.

The whole Bob Hope family leaves later this month for South America—that is, the two older children and Dolores. Our vital statistics department reports that Elsie, the cow, is expecting. This is not the first time she's to become a mother.

I took time off to go out to the races at Hollywood Park, and the happiest people out there were the Harry Warners, when three of their thoroughbreds, Honeymoon, Milder and Paper Boy, came in. Harry was most pleased at Paper Boy, the 3-year-old. He was so happy he kissed the trainer, Doris and Charles Vidar who were in the box with Mrs. Warner, and all of the Warner clan had a sizable bet—on the Warner favorites.

Ran into Warner Baxter, and my wife and I. From the smiles on Myrvyn Le Roy's face I'd say he had a lucky day, but some people smile when they lose. That's a wonderful trait and hard to do. George Brent came to see his horse run, but he didn't have the luck of the Warners.

Speaking of league leaders, a large bet was made last night at the Music Box that the Cardinals would be topping their league by Aug. 1 . . . The odds were $700 against $500, and the same gambler who favored the Cardinals asked only a one point difference in offering to bet a $1000 against $1200 that the Cardinals would travel from their lowly present to the top at the end of the season . . . If these bets reflect the official odds, the Cardinals are the short end of 6 to 5 to win, and 7 to 5 to lead the league come Aug. 1.

AS TO THE RED SOX, their dismal showing on tour has widened the price on them to repeat considerably . . . You should get twelve dollars to every five right now in betting them to win the pennant . . . WASHINGTON, June 6—Congressional a. cussedness: Still holding out obdurately against daylight saving, which he has denounced as a hair shirt designed to itch mankind. Sen. John H. Overton of Louisiana has a big sign on the door of his sanctum reading:

"This office operates on standard time only."

TRENCHMONOLOGUE by Rep. Harold Knutson of Minnesota, chairman of the powerful House ways and means committee:

"I would like somebody to tell me what single New Deal function we've abolished since we Republicans took over. During the election campaigns the Democrats said the only thing we were promising was that we could run the New Deal more effectively. It seems to me that if we continue as we are doing the only thing we can say to the voters in 1948 is that we run run the New Deal more cheaply.

"You may want to go back and face your people with that story. I don't. And if we do we won't win in 1948."

SOMETIMES wish I were in the gossip column racket. I could practically make a career of reporting the vacillating romance of John Ringling North and Miss Jean Barry McCormick.

One day I could report that their marriage was imminent and two loving hearts would soon beat as one under the circus big top. The next day I could fill up space disclosing they had parted forever—and then start all over again the day following.

As this is being written (approximately 4:07 p. m.) the again-on-again-gone-again-Finnegan romance is off again but there are bets in our set that it will be on again before sundown because Miss McCormick is reported to be headed for Washington—the circus and Mr.

North being here now—with a combination of fire and love-light in her eyes.

The young society beauty (I am referring now to Miss McCormick because the circus tycoon is not nearly as beautiful) has plighted and unplighted her troth in practically every state of the Union and possibly a few territories. She is one of the few post-debs I know who can be engaged in Peoria on Tuesday, wednesday in New Orleans on Wednesday, fianced and unfianced in New York between noon and cocktail time Thursday.

I am not a cad who goes around dunning young women, unless they have money, but I wish to state that Miss McCormick owes me $10. Moreover I have witnesses of the hitherto—most unimpeachable character.

Miss McCormick attended a cocktail party last week given by Mr. Ruth Montgomery. She announced firmly that she was through with Mr. North forever.

By George Dixon

I VOICED skepticism, whereupon she said she would bet me. Not that I distrust the young lady in fiscal matters, but just to be sure I demanded witnesses to the transaction. In the presence of Supreme Court Justice Murphy, the Countess Austine Cassini, Mrs. Edward M. Treglow, Sens. Bridges of New Hampshire and Brooks of Illinois, she bet me $10 the romance would remain off into eternity—or until July 15 at the earliest.

THAT, as I recall it, was on a Thursday. Two days later she showed up in Philadelphia and told Mr. North that her parting had all been a hideous mistake, appealing to his sense of reason by threatening to break a bottle over his head if he didn't agree. He found the clear logic of her argument unassailable and they were reunited.

Maybe it's smarter to just keep betting her, than reporting the romance. More profitable for the long pull!

instruct him, concerning his rights.
"He must realize that when one offers to give a reward to a public official, he is equally guilty as the one who accepts the reward.

"The witness does not have to testify regarding this unless he wishes to do so. Do you understand that?"

"Yes, your Honor," Donato replied.
"Having warned you of your rights, the court will recess to 2 p. m.," Judge Sullivan said.

Two witnesses preceded Donato.

City Clerk B. Hynes presented official council records, including minutes of a session last Oct. 28 in which Kelly opposed taking the petition for the permits for the proposed garage out of the council committee on licenses.

In the minutes, Kelly was quoted as saying it had been a matter of council courtesy to keep such permits in the committee if the councilor from the district involved requested it.

In cross-examination, Atty. Timothy J. Murphy, counsel for Kelly, brought out that the council had no authority over department heads and the witness agreed the council's only power was one vote of approval or disapproval.

In re-direct examination, however, Doyle brought out that the council "can control the purse strings" of any department through its power to reduce departmental appropriations in the budget.

The other witness, Lawrence W. Costello, secretary of the board of street commissioners, produced the petition of Donato and Comoletti for a garage and gasoline storage permit, filed last Aug. 13.

The application bore a notation that hearing had been held Sept. 23, objection entered and the request had been given leave to withdraw Sept. 26.

Costello also presented an application which had been approved by the building department but which showed that Kelly had appeared later in opposition with the petition being given leave to withdraw.

In his opening, Asst. Dist. Atty. Doyle said the State would show Donato and Comoletti met with Kelly in the latter's home on the night of June 8, 1946; and that there was general discussion of their plans for the garage.

"We will show that they sat in the front room and that the defendant said in substance: 'Have you been following what these things are worth. Gas and liquor licenses are the biggest thing in Boston.'"

"There will be testimony from Comoletti that he asked the defendant what he wanted and that Kelly asked him what he had to offer.

"Finally, it will be shown that

Kelly said that for $2500 he would get everything. That he had to pay off nine men in the council and that if there was no money there would be no permits.

"When Comoletti objected to this," Doyle continued, "Kelly told him that he was making it cheap for him because he was a friend and then asked what he had in mind. When he was told 'about $200,' the defendant said he wouldn't lift a pencil for that and also refused as much as $500.

"Donato then asked him what would happen if they went over his head and the defendant told them it would do no good as he was notified of all permit applications.

The two men left and Kelly followed them out to the car, telling them again it would do no good to file a petition.

"It will be shown that two weeks later Comoletti met Kelly in front of the latter's home and again discussed the matter, offering to give $200 more out of his own pocket as well as the $500.

"Comoletti will testify that Kelly told him that would be okay for the garage permit and that he could see him later about the sidewalk permits. That was the last the two men saw of Kelly after Comoletti refused.

"On Sept. 23 a hearing was held by the street commissioners on their petition and at its conclusion the commissioners said Councilor Kelly wished to be heard so they would keep the matter open.

"On Sept. 25, the defendant sent a letter to Donato saying he was appearing to oppose the petition at the request of abutters.

"We will bring in abutters who will deny that they asked Kelly to oppose the petition."

Televised Truman, Senators Need Lipstick, Expert Says

•HOLLYWOOD, June 6 (AP)—If the nation's political personages want to appear at their best before television cameras they've got to go in for extra makeup touches, says a Hollywood expert.

Assuming both the Democratic and Republican national conventions will be televised, Max Factor, Jr., says the bigwigs might look "unattractively bleached out and expressionless" unless they follow tips such as these:

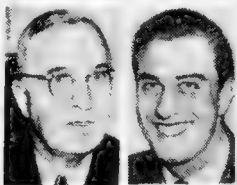

President Truman — Rugged character lines of his face should be decidedly shadowed with reddish-brown; his "glittering hair" combed through with a touch of hair-darkener to dull the sheen; embellishment with dark brown eye makeup and lipstick.

Gov. Warren of California — Hair dulled.

Gov. Dewey of New York, Sen. Bricker of Ohio — Standard makeup plus lip and eye makeup.

Sen. Vandenberg of Michigan, Sen. Taft of Ohio, Harold Stassen of Minnesota — Standard makeup, plus lip and eye treatment, and still further improvement "if they would submit to the establishment of frontal hairpieces."

Sen. Connally of Texas, Sec.

Truman Dewey

Marshall, Henry Wallace — "Could benefit from face-dulling and accentuation of face character lines."

Factor thinks Gov. Dewey, Sen. Joseph Ball of Minnesota and Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., "are just naturally telegraphic," but says the United Mine Workers' chieftain,

Dewey Ball

John L. Lewis, "would offer one of the greatest problems of all."

4 ITTY KITTIES

BALTIMORE, June 6 (AP)—Kansas City Kitty, the Druid Hill Zoo Lion, had four extra sparks in his eyes today.

The missus, Sioux City Sue, gave birth to quintuplets, and the four that survived made their public debut for photographers and zoo officials.

Zoo Director Fred Leser explained five is a feat—even for a lion.

They were born May 16, but the event was kept secret because of their mother's sensitiveness about visitors.

Herson, a member of the Mailers' Union, Boston No. 16, affiliated with the International Typographical Union, has been employed as a mailer by the Record-American.

GOP Budget Plan
Called Failure

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—House Democrats cried "failure" today as the Republican drive to cut $6,000,000,000 from President Truman's $37,500,000,000 spending estimate for 1948 passed the halfway mark with about two-thirds of the budget disposed of.

The Democrats based their assertions on a cut of less than eight per cent in the War Dept. budget which the House passed yesterday after adding $40,000,000 for new airplane purchases.

Rep. Cannon, of Missouri, top Democrat on the appropriations committee, told reporters:

"The Republicans will never reach their $6,000,000,000 cutting goal."

CHINESE FALL BACK

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1947

A HONEYMOON TRIP to Sky Top and then on to California for the summer is in store for Mrs. Elizabeth Lamson Defren and Karl Adams, Jr., popular Boston society couple being married today in New York.

Peggy, as the bride is known to her friends, is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Lamson of Newton. The bridegroom, whose home is in Weston, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Karl Adams of Boston.

They are having a small family wedding at the Dutch Reform Church, New York. Mrs. Hamilton Edwards of Chestnut Hill, cousin of the bride, and Hamilton Heard of Brookline, brother-in-law of the groom, are the wedding attendants.

The petite blonde bride is wearing a light blue silk suit with a perky boia de rose satin hat trimmed with matching starched satin ribbon, and a corsage of white orchids.

When they return from California the couple will reside in Weston with their combined family which numbers five children by their former marriages. Peggy has two youngsters and Karl three. The children have gone to summer camp.

Peggy made her debut in Boston in 1933-34 after attending Beaver Country Day and National Cathedral in Washington. Her bridegroom graduated from Harvard in 1933.

TO GET a head start on their sun tans, Mrs. Edwin B. Holmes, 24, entertained several of her former Beaver classmates at a terrace luncheon the other day. The gathering was at the home of her mother and father-in-law with whom Nancy and Ed are living while their new house is being built in Newton.

The married girls brought their babies and tucked them in for naps in various rooms of the house. The gathering included Mrs. Mark Eaton (Marta de Chopitea) and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rafael Chopitea (Nancy Eaton) who were Beaver classmates and married each other's brother. Both their husbands are currently in Argentina on business. Also enjoying the fun was Sylvia Ward of Brookline, Mrs. Warren Smith of Beacon st., and Mrs. Richard Dwyer of Newton, the former Sylvia Long of Chattanooga.

MRS. GUY E. BROOKS of Winchester heads the committee planning a bridge party tomorrow at the Downes estate, Winchester, to benefit the proposed new Marycliff School soon to be erected in that town.

Reports from the ticket committee comprising Mrs. John H. Allison, Mrs. Roy McCormack and Mrs. William J. Stevenson indicate that several hundred will enjoy the afternoon's festivities.

Assisting Mrs. Brooks are Mrs. John E. Potter, Mrs. George O'Brien, Mrs. John A. Doyle, Mrs. Francis J. Hunt, Mrs. Carl E. Hunt, Mrs. Charles Wall, Mrs. Robert Blake, Mrs. William Moynihan, Mrs. William Sullivan, Mrs.

THE HOTEL SOMERSET was the scene of two important Harvard reunion dinners recently. In the Louis XIV ballroom, Harvard 22 wives and sons and daughters above 16, dined after a reception in the Persian Room and the private ballroom suite, and then danced when husbands and fathers joined them, walking over from a stag dinner at the Harvard Club.

Among the women committee members for the class of '22 present were Mrs. Leonard Wheeler, Jr., Cambridge, dance chairman, who wore a white dinner gown with rose panels; Mrs. Richard Higgins of Dedham, head of the ladies' committee for the reunion; and Mrs. Myles P. Baker of Brookline, head hostess. In a family group were Mrs. T. Edson Jewell and daughters Jane and Patty of Newton. Others attending were Roger Adams Perry, Jr., Martha Houghton in a cross-bar summer cotton gown, and Nancy Hall of Wellesley Hills chatting with Edwin C. Lincoln, Jr., of Hingham.

Another foursome was new debutante Mary Colt of Brookline, in a stunning black lace and blue satin gown, and her post deb sister, Ellen Colt, with Albert Key, 24, of Washington, and John Shillito, Jr., of Chestnut Hill.

Simultaneously in the Somerset's Princess Ballroom, the class of '37 was dining after an outdoor day on the estate of Mr. Allan Forbes.

Taunton Taxes Hiked by Failure to Get Camp Pay

TAUNTON, June 6—Joseph P. McKenna, chairman of assessors, announced today the 80-cent increase represented in the city's tax rate of $46 for 1947 would have been less if State Tax Comm. Henry F. Long had reimbursed the city in connection with the taking over of Camp Myles Standish.

Alert Secretary Barks Car Thief

An alert secretary and a quick-acting Boston policeman put a crimp in the plans of a would-be auto thief in the Back Bay this forenoon.

Mrs. Edith London, secretary to Dr. Bernard A. Godvin of Beacon st., looked out the window of the doctor's office just in time to see his car turn the corner into Massachusetts ave. and head towards Harvard bridge, with a driver she did not recognize.

She shouted to Patrolman William Cain on traffic duty at the intersection, and told him the car had been stolen. Cain commanded a passing auto and gave chase across the bridge into Cambridge. The thief, seeing he was being chased, abandoned the car near M. I. T.

New Rose Lipstick, Nail Polish

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

YOU HAVE A GOOD CHANCE of becoming a raving beauty now that a famous color authority has translated the dewy color tones of June roses into a new nail polish and lipstick shade.

It is the very newness of the color that makes it so immediately appealing . . . for it is shades lighter than the nail polish and lipstick we have worn recently. It sparkles with the same delicate over-tones found in the heart of a rose . . . no wonder it rates such a lovely name as raving beauty to make of you a comparable charmer.

We have begun to think that some of the men we know must have gotten together and descended on this beauty salon with an order in hand for this very shade . . . how else could she have arrived so precisely at the one shade they so wholeheartedly approve! How else . . . except that this noted colorist has created a shade as new in fashion as the longer skirts . . . as lady-like as this season's lace mitts.

This shade is enough to put your beauty-seeking mind at ease . . . in a bed of roses, if you please . . . for this glorious color gives such noticeable accent to your natural beauty. Your finger tips share their prettiness with nothing less than rose petals . . . the moist shining softness of your lips is quite beyond compare . . . and they'll stay fresh-looking and appealing for hours because this particular lipstick has a stay-on quality that is fine!

GOES WITH SMARTEST COSTUMES

There are, however, some of us to whom smartness means more than prettiness . . . who are more interested in the fashion rightness of this color than its magic-making loveliness. To us it is important that this new rosy shade goes with all this season's smartest costume blues, beiges, grays, greens, muted pinks, mauve and lavender tones.

Whether we think of prettiness or smartness . . . we must conclude that this new color that makes for raving beauty is easily a raving color of the season. Of course the polish and the lipstick can be purchased individually . . . but we can't help but write about them as a unit for that is the way of the smart gal . . . perfect co-ordination between her finger tips and her lips. And that is as it should be, naturally!

There is a purse-kit size of these two indispensables that is just what the beauty doctor ordered . . . and what the beauty-loving gal needs for ever-constant perfection for her lips and her nails.

For the name of this newly translated nail and lip color duet, phone the Beauty Dept., 1187 Broadway 4000, any day except Sunday, or write to me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

THE BEAUTY of June roses has nothing on a new nail polish and lipstick shade . . . which via the ingenuity of a noted cosmetic colorist has been translated into dewy color tones for a raving beauty effect on both the lips and the fingertips. A purse-size kit of both . . . illustrated by the model . . . with a mirror fitted right on the cover and holding a miniature bottle of the polish and a regular-sized lipstick . . . is a whole lot of beauty for very little in price.

Should Know Solution

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am only 16 years old, but I'm in love with a girl who's 18. My father does not think that she is the right kind of girl for me. I still love her, but I have found out that my father is right. She has been making immoral suggestions to me, and I don't know whether to keep on going with her or not. Please help me. —R. S.

You're fascinated by a wicked woman of the world, aren't you? You think you're seeing life. You're enjoying the experience of playing around on the fringes of something you know perfectly well you should let strictly alone. It makes you feel sophisticated to toy with the idea of indulging in an affair. It gives you a thrill to discuss it, so you write me a letter about it instead of simply admitting that your father was right, making up your mind to stop seeing this girl, and letting it go at that.

You know what you ought to do. Why not be really sophisticated and do it?

Use of Serving Fork, Spoon

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Will you please tell me just exactly how I should use the serving fork and serving spoon when these are on the meat platter or dish of vegetables that is passed to me at table? EMILY.

Take the serving spoon in your right hand; the serving fork in your left hand. Use the spoon to separate or cut a portion, slip it under that portion, and then hold it in place with the fork, prongs down, while you transfer the portion to your plate.

Emphasize the Shaped Lines

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

THERE is fancy work afoot in the fashions this summer and it's something that's all to the good. The same kind of dressmaker touches that went into the elegant clothes of the Mauve Decade are reappearing in suits and dresses.

These touches are seen usually on clothes that have a pretty, feminine air and a sound basic structure. They often serve to emphasize a distinctive print or weave and are most effective when they follow the shaped lines of a costume. Used in a suit, these decorative touches may serve to give a curved line to a jacket. On a dress, they may focus attention on a slim waist or an unusual shoulder line.

The Fira Benenson dressmaker suit sketched today uses this device to point up a shaped jacket. In this case, quilted daisies with jet bead centers are scattered down the jacket of the black silk serge suit. The hips of the jacket are stiffened with a fine new crop of good manners. Then, slightly with horsehair for a rounded effect. The happily, high-heartedly, watch the garden grow! skirt is slender and gored.

WHEN A GIRL wears this Lanaset-treated wool bathing suit she won't have to worry about its shape . . . or hers, for that matter. Through many seasons it will keep its perfect fit . . . because it's stabilized against shrinking or stretching. Designed by Lee . . . it has a covered midriff and controlled bareness . . . the triangular open spaces start at either side of the midriff and are confined around the back. And it is available in such lush colors as blue, yellow and aqua. —R. M.

Pickles, Cheese Appetizers

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

YOU'VE HEARD of trouble shooters—those expert "fixers" who banish big business troubles with dispatch. There are culinary fixers, too, capable of routing mealtime doldrums with quick results. Two of these are better than one when the combination is pickles and cheese.

There are almost as many ways to team this pair as there are kinds of pickles or varieties of cheese. Pickles and cheese naturally go together. They're established favorites in hors d'oeuvres—easy to prepare in a number of ways, and easy to eat.

Of course they're almost as indispensable as bread in sandwich making—the combinations ranging from such simple quickies as a seasoned spread of cottage cheese and dill pickles, to the rarest of roquets combined with fresh cucumber pickle's tang.

COTTAGE DILL MIX

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup cottage cheese
1-3 cup dill pickle relish or chopped dill pickles
Salt and pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. lemon juice

Combine all ingredients, mixing well. This recipe makes enough filling for 6 sandwiches. This delicious mixture needn't be reserved for sandwiches, however. It's a grand summer salad, especially attractive piled high in a scooped out tomato. Or, thinned with light cream, it can serve as a sliced tomato dressing.

Consider, too, the well-balanced meal, such as one including "cutlets" of leftover chicken, parsley potatoes and carrots.

CHICKEN CUTLETS

$\frac{2}{3}$ tbsp. butter or margarine
1 tbsp. minced onion
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. salt
1 egg
1 cup milk or chicken stock
 $\frac{2}{3}$ cups finely chopped cooked chicken

Melt butter over low heat; add onion and saute until golden brown. Add flour, salt and pepper; blend well. Remove from heat and gradually stir in milk or chicken stock. Return to heat and cook, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Add chicken; chill thoroughly. Shape into cutlets. Beat egg slightly. Dip cutlets into egg and roll in bread crumbs. Pan fry in a small amount of fat in a frying pan. Serve with pickle cheese sauce. Makes 6 servings.

PICKLE CHEESE SAUCE

1 tbsp. butter or margarine
3 tbsp. flour
Dash of pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cups milk
1-3 cup cheddar cheese spread
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1-3 cup chopped sweet pickles or sweet pickle relish
1-3 cup chopped pimiento

Melt butter over low heat. Stir in flour, salt, and pepper. Remove from heat; gradually add milk and cheese. Return to heat. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Add Worcestershire sauce, pickles, pimiento. Makes 1½ cups.

Besides adding flavor and color, this sauce will supplement protein values. It's a tempting addition to some vegetables, too, especially broccoli, asparagus and cauliflower. And a flavor fillip for hot hard-cooked eggs.

For salads, try this variation of French dressing:

MIXED PICKLE DRESSING

$\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. paprika
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. dry mustard
 $\frac{2}{3}$ tsp. mild vinegar
1 tsp. onion juice
 $\frac{2}{3}$ tsp. any chopped pickle or $\frac{1}{4}$ cup salad oil

Mix dry ingredients thoroughly, add oil, and stir until well blended. Add vinegar, onion juice and pickles and beat or shake well until mixture thickens slightly. Beat or shake well just before serving. Makes about $\frac{1}{4}$ cup dressing.

'Dishonored Lady' At Para-Fenway

Hedy Lamarr is possibly the most beautiful woman on the screen, and, possibly, that should be enough. Certainly her cinematic gorgeousness had Paramount's male customers drooling at yesterday's opening showing of "Dishonored Lady."

This is the dramatic vehicle that served Katharine Cornell so successfully.

United Artist's Hunt Stromberg has given it a lavish production but those official blue pencils have nibbled so heartily on the plot that Miss Lamarr's Madeleine Damien is more to be pitied than Miss Cornell's blamed "Lady." Madeleine is now definitely a psychological case rather than a flagrantly immoral charmer.

She is rather a shadowy character, now this lovely young editor of a fashionable woman's magazine, whose affairs and glamorous way of life are but a coverup for an abysmally unhappy woman.

Miss Lamarr, who never looked lovelier, doesn't manage to carry off the idea but admittedly there was a great deal of audience awareness of the fact that the menace in her "Dishonored Lady" life is played by her off-again-on-again real-life husband, John Loder.

Loder overdoes the intent-eyed menace stuff, but he, too, is strikingly personable, and the Paramount patrons ("Dishonored Lady" is also playing at the Fenway this week) got a great kick out of trying to discover if they really care. Dennis O'Keefe, their co-star, isn't too rounded a character.

Morris Carnovsky enacts the psychiatrist consulted by the orchidaceous Miss Lamarr for her problems. A press release states he desired to be a psychiatrist in his St. Louis boyhood but was discouraged by a psychiatrist-friend of the family because he didn't look the part. It is the stage's gain but he certainly looks like and convinces as a psychiatrist.

Paul Cavanagh, as Hedy's infatuated publisher; Natalie Schafer as her caty successor, William Langdon as a larcenous stool pigeon-pal of the publisher and Margaret Hamilton, as an acid-tongued, meddling boardinghouse-keeper, do better than the stars.

'Red House' Genuine Thriller

By PEGGY DOYLE

There are horror stories and horror stories, too many of them in the pseudo-semi-demi division of dillies that have the customers giving them the chill after a quarter-hour's formancees were the talk of the screening-room the day the United Artists' release was previewed for us.

The characters of "The Red House" are rural people... a farmer who is half-crazed by his past, his self-sacrificing, understanding spinster sister and his foster-daughter upon whom he lavishes all his devotion.

A forthright schoolboy, who has been employed to work part-time at the farm, determines to probe the secret of the old red house in the Ox Head Woods that the neighborhood gossip has it is haunted. The old farmer's talk of supernatural, menacing forces in the woods, his wild-eyed insistence that the boy and his foster-daughter keep out of this accursed woodland strip tantalize the lad to discover the mystery.

Skillful scripting, directing and acting, abetted by Miklos Rozsa's really impressive score, combine to give "The Red House" remarkable poignancy and realism. It is not a classic, mind you, but it is a genuinely superior, unusually compelling horror picture.

50 Sox Face Count If They Don't Sweep Series in Detroit

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1947

Dave Ferriss

By HERB FINNEGAN

DETROIT, June 6—Count out Detroit as a pennant contender. The league-leaders, with whom the Red Sox open a three-game series today, haven't got power enough to tip over a lightweight. Count out the Red Sox, too, if they don't whip the Tigers three times running.

Here's the nine Detroit fielders in the final game of their series with the Yankees: Wagner, c, Overmire, p, Cullenbine, 1b, Mayo, 2b, Lake, ss, Outlaw, 3b, Wertz, lf, Evers, cf, Mullins, rf. That's the lineup that will face the Sox after being held to three hits and blanked by Chandler 7-0.

Oh, they're having their run of hard luck as they did a year ago. They lost three men in the first game of the mid-week doubleheader with the New Yorkers—Kell, Wakefield and Trout. Previously, Hutchinson, Cullenbine, Trucks, Evers and Swift had been benched with injuries.

Kell is their big shot, a .325 hitter and the best third baseman in the league. Stirrweiss spiked him on hand and knee in Wednesday's game, and he'll be sidelined for 10 days. So, too, will Wakefield, who hurt his knee sliding into second base. Trout irritated a groin injury and will miss at least one turn in the box.

It would be hard enough for the Tigers to win with them; without them, they look like amateurs.

Outlaw is 34. He failed with the second division Braves years ago, also with the second division Reds. He came up again during the war, and because of the dearth of young ball players he's still around.

Mayo is 34. He, too, failed with the pre-war Braves, was spending a life sentence in the Coast League until the war relieved him. He's hanging on by his finger tips.

Lake is young enough (30) but had a hard time beating Skeeter Newsome out for the Sox shortstop post in '45, and might not have made it if Skeeter hadn't been injured.

Cullenbine, 32, has been with Brooklyn, Browns, Washington and Cleveland as well as Detroit. He looked like a fine prospect years ago but the $25,000 bonus he received from Brooklyn in '39 after being declared a free agent seemed to have curbed his ambition.

The Sox had Sam Dente, Al Kozar, Chuck Koney and Al Flair among their spares at Sarasota and those kids would do a better job for the Tigers than the present incumbents.

DETROIT'S PENNANT HOPES are based largely on their pitching and outfield. Their pitching is holding up but the best of pitchers need runs to win, and Detroit can't engender much power without Kell, Mullin, who was hitting .400 a month ago, is down to .320 and going lower. Evers is hitting .268 but is overweight and lacks the speed he had in '46. Wakefield is hitting .272, dangerous at bat but inconsistent and a poor fielder. For outfield reserves the Tigers use Doc Cramer who admits he's 40, and a rookie named Vic Wertz who should be a good hitter before long. In the infield are Skeeter Webb and Jack McFall who wouldn't be in the majors if they hadn't married into Detroit's official family. Webb married Steve O'Neill's daughter and McFall married Owner Briggs' niece. No Pellagrini no Culbersons there.

Cullenbine is hitting .180, Lake .190, McFall .179, Webb .143, Mayo .203, Wagner .219. Not a pennant picture.

What a glorious opportunity for the Red Sox to get off the floor and start swinging.

Bad as they've been, the Sox are only four games from the top, and they're bound to do better because they can't do worse.

"I'll start the same lineup I've been using," said Joe Cronin, which means York will remain on first although he never hits in Detroit, Mele will be in center in place of the injured DiMaggio, and Moses will be in right. This is a good park for old Wally to hit in, incidentally, so DiMaggio shouldn't be missed.

Ferriss, Hughson and Dobson are ready to pitch, and southpaw Mickey Harris is itching to get into action.

If the Sox have any gumption at all, they'll sweep this series which would make their road record 7-9. They should follow up by taking two of three in Cleveland because Feller isn't due to face them. Then they'll go home for a long, long time. If they're ever going to assert their class, they should do it at Fenway.

The Yanks are the team to beat in this race, and the Sox know it. Cleveland has a long row of doubleheaders ahead and hasn't got the pitching to match it. Detroit's on its way out, and the others haven't got it.

This is the chance of a lifetime for the Sox. If they miff it, they don't deserve a championship tag.

TOUGHEST GUY in the league! Fred Hutchinson of the Tigers. Everybody who was in the Navy with him admits it, and judging from the way ex-gob Lucadello shot back to the bench when Hutch appeared at the plate he knew of his reputation. Here's the way the fuss started: Johnson missed the plate when he scored from first on Rizzuto's double and Lake's wild return. Scrambling back, he threw a football block at Wagner, who didn't like it. Wagner started to yelp and Ralph Houk, next hitter, charged Wagner (Houk was a major in the Rangers during the war). They started sparring. Lucadello came off the bench. Hutch came off the Tiger bench, jacket and all, and was ready to throw his Sunday punch when the umpires took charge. Charlie Berry banished both Houk and Hutch but Johnson, who started it all, was allowed to finish the game.

KELLER LEFT the game with an injured back, and both Detroit and Red Sox said they wished it was nothing trivial. Trucks (3-1) was Ferriss' (4-1) mound foe today. Ferriss whipped the Tigers six times last season. . . . Tigers play Lake in the hole, Mayo atop second base against Joe DiMaggio. Mayo robbed him of a hit over the bag. Lake barely missed Joe's lone base hit. . . . Overmire bats right-handed as did southpaws Hubbell, Vandermere and Chase before him. . . . Since dropping the Memorial Day doubleheader to the A's, the Yanks have taken two from the Indians, three of four from the Tigers, five victories in six games. They won one, lost four on their first Western trip. . . . Joe Cronin and Larry Woodall watched the game from the lofty press coop and said they could understand why some writers are dizzy.

Neun's Reds at Wigwam

By FRED HOEY

Since Johnny Neun took over the piloting of the Cincinnati Reds he has coached his batters to swing from the heels in an effort to pile up extra base hits. With the new liveliest ball in play, it appears as though Johnny's plan is paying dividends. The Reds may not win a lot of ball games but they are getting those extra basehits. So tonight at Braves Field, Neun will introduce his 1947 edition of the Reds in an arc-light game against the Braves.

Braves' Hustle Pleases Fans Even in Defeat

The Braves, win or lose, give you a great ball game. The one quality the fans like is the everlasting hustle of the Tribal forces. Even a runner looking like a dead duck going down the first base line on an infield grounder runs it out. . . . Johnny Sain is a hitter not to trifle with. To date, Johnny has made eight hits and batted in eight runs. . . . The 1947 Braves Sketch Board has put in its appearance, and it's a tribute to the skill and imagination of Billy Sullivan, publicity director at the Wigwam. It's jammed with news and swell pictures.

Nothing wrong with Charlie "Red" Barrett. Even before he led the mound against his old Card mates Wednesday night, "Red" purchased a box of cigars to be handed out to his mates at the end of the game. . . . The Cards now have a 5-3 edge on the Braves for the season. . . . Yesterday's game drew 13,258 paid customers and 152 members of the Knot Hole Gang. . . . The Cards came up with three grand plays in the very first inning. "Mr. Shortstop" contributed two and Harry Brecheen, the twirler, turned in the third.

An odd incident developed in the Braves fourth. Tommy Holmes led with a single to center. Mike McCormick laid a bunt down the third base line. Whitey Kuroski fielded the tap and pegged to first. Nobody covered first. Red Schoendienst was back on second base grass and Stan Musial was in around the plate looking for the bunt. A run scored and Kuroski was charged with an error. . . . Earl Torgeson can blame the strong southwest wind of depriving him of a homer in the ninth. Earl hit a tremendous fly to right. The wind held it up sufficiently for Roy Northey to make a catch of it.

Mike McCormick, who came up with two singles, lost an extra base hit when Terry Moore made a remarkable back-handed glove catch of his long fly to left center in the ninth. The Braves tabbed Brecheen hard in the final round but couldn't get in there safe. . . . Si Johnson or Ed Wright will work for the Braves in tonight's game against Cincinnati. HOEY.

The Braves dropped a tough one to the Cards, 4-3, yesterday. The game should have been in the Tribal satchel. The ironical part was to have Marty Marion, who never hits his weight (155), to come up in the ninth with two mates on base and blast a home run to win the game.

It was a pity and shame that Johnny Sain failed to rack up his sixth win in nine starts. He had held the Cards to six hits over the first eight innings.

The Braves didn't do too badly against Harry "The Cat" Brecheen if it wasn't for good fielding support the hero of the last World Series received. Marion's home run wouldn't have meant anything.

So today finds the Braves two games away from the top, not a bad spot to occupy in this hectic race with positions changing almost every day.

The world champion Cards have had a tough time of it since the bell rang, but no wise baseball person will sell this team short. They are on the move now. They have the stuff to deliver, and to us, it's only a matter of time before they will be in contention for the lead. You can't keep down class and the Cards are covered with it.

Tough as it was for Sain to drop the finale with the Cards, it was gratifying to know that the brilliant right-hander is once again himself. This gives the Braves Spahn, Barrett, Cooper, Sain and Wright ready for rotation work, a plan toward which Billy Southworth has been shooting for.

52 Tab Freshman Hurler As Dodgers' Flag Spark

By The Associated Press

Freshman Harry Taylor, whose third straight pitching victory coincided with Brooklyn's arrival in first place, is hailed in Flatbush as the man who could pitch the Dodgers to the National League pennant.

That's quite a step for a young man who was doing his pitching for St. Paul in the American Association a year ago but his recent form backs up Brooklyn's optimism.

When the Dodgers gathered at Havana for spring training, chores, the front office listed three young hurlers in the "can't miss" classification. John Van Cuyk, one of the three, is now in Montreal. Ed Chandler, another, is riding the Dodger bench or throwing in the bullpen. Taylor is the third.

Beaten in his first big league start at Cincinnati, May 13, Taylor did time in the bullpen, relieving five times before Manager Burt Shotton gave him another starting chance against the New York Giants. Taylor humiliated the Giants' home run sluggers, 14-2, with a five-hitter and followed with another of the same against St. Louis, beating Harry Brecheen, an old Dodger jinx.

Fritz Ostermuller, who has taken particular delight in beating Brooklyn consistently since Branch Rickey tried to send him back to the minor leagues in 1944, was his opponent yesterday. Taylor turned in his best effort, a two-hit, 3-0 victory over Pittsburgh. If it hadn't been for Wally Westlake, who connected for a triple and single, he could have edged into the hall of fame.

The win boosted the Brooks into the lead because the Giants and the Chicago Cubs, who had been tied for first place, split a doubleheader at the Polo Grounds. Taylor currently rates the No. 2 spot in the Dodger pitching plans, right behind Ralph Branca, who graduated from a three-game winner in 1946 to ace of the staff this season. The staff has produced only 12 complete games and Taylor and Branca have eight of them.

After Paul Erickson of the Cubs had tamed the Giants with three hits in a 5-1 opening game, Mel Ott's gang slugged away at three Chicago throwers for an eight-run third inning to even matters with a 3-3 decision.

Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell ran his victory total to seven by shutting out the Phillies, 5-0, with six hits, the Reds flattening Ken Raffensberger with a five-run first inning. Harry Gumbert's fine relief pitching enabled the Reds to take the second game, 6-3, for a clean sweep of the doubleheader in which Brady Hutton collected a total of six hits.

The New York Yankees continued to crush the American League leading Detroit Tigers, 7-0, on Spud Chandler's three-hit work. Three out of four over the Tigers left the Yanks only one game behind the Bengals. Fisticuffs involving catcher Ralph Houk, utility infielder Johnny Lucadello of the Yanks and pitcher Fred Hutchinson of the Tigers enlivened proceedings. Houk and pitcher Charles Berry before it turned into a free-for-all.

Jesse Flores' three-hitter boosted Philadelphia's A's into a third-place tie with Boston and Cleveland on a 5-2 win over Chicago's Edgar Smith. Early Wynn of Washington shut out Cleveland, 3-0, with six hits in a game marred by an injury to Manager Lou Boudreau of the Tribe.

Fans Open Balloting Today On Majors' All-Star Players

CHICAGO, June 6 (AP)—Balloting by the nation's baseball fans for players who will start the 14th annual All-Star major league game at Chicago's Wrigley Field, July 8, opened today in a poll conducted by 182 newspapers, magazines and radio stations.

It was the first time since 1935 that the fans have had their own say about all-star selections, both leagues having named their own lineups for 10 of the 13 games played to date.

Voting for the eight top players, exclusive of pitchers, in both the American and National Leagues, will continue in 42 states, Canada, the District of Columbia, Panama, Hawaii and among overseas troops until midnight, June 26.

The All-Star pitchers will be picked by Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox, who will pilot the American League team, and Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals, who will handle the National League. Cronin and Dyer won the managerships by virtue of piloting their teams to first place in the 1946 pennant race.

Each newspaper, radio station and magazine will conduct the poll in its own manner, but all tabulations will be filed to the Chicago Tribune, sponsor for the international balloting.

The eight players in each league who receive the highest number of ballots at their positions will get starting assignments in the game. Commissioner A. B. Chandler, President Ford Frick of the National League and President Will Harridge of the American League will decide later the number of innings a starting player may remain in the game.

Garden Punchfest on WCOP and WLAW Tonight

Classy Tony Janiro of Youngstown makes his middleweight debut when he clashes with Jacob LaMotta (above), high-ranking Bronx brawler in a ten-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight. Janiro was a lightweight when he started his pro career three years ago. He later established himself as a top-flight welterweight. Now he is moving into the 160-lb. division. Tony has won 59 out of 62 fights but in tackling his first middleweight, he has picked a tough nut to crack.

LaMotta is one of boxing's most unusual physical specimens. Jawbone Jake is a human block of granite. He belongs to the mauler class and is a smashing body puncher. The Bronxite has agreed to make 155 pounds for his meeting with Janiro.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WCOP (1150 on your dial) and WLAW (680 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

And remember, men... LOOK sharp! FEEL sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

Kowalski Repeats in Hearst Sandlot Try-outs at Lawrence

By JACK CONWAY, JR.

The New England trials of the National Hearst Sandlot baseball championships took the first of 13 hurdles yesterday afternoon at O'Sullivan Park, Lawrence, where 193 of the best ball players in the Lowell-Haverhill-Lawrence area capered through a four-hour session to determine the two best players in the area. The pair selected will play in the N. E. final, July 29, at Fenway Park.

Dick Kowalski, a 16-year-old Lawrence high school pitcher, continues to be an amazing prospect as he was selected for the second straight year to go to the New England final. Dick is the left-hander of whom Billy Southworth, Braves pilot, spoke high praise last year. "The kid has plenty of class on the mound. He should go a long way in big-time ball," were Southworth's words.

Joe Barry, the other selection, is a big red headed catcher from Haverhill high.

"He has a great arm," said George Atkinson, owner of the Lawrence team in the New England League, of Barry. "He hits well too. Should show plenty of stuff at Fenway."

Mark H. Devlin, Jr., the famous Lawrence high school coach who was instrumental in the promotion of the Record-American-Sunday-Advertiser baseball try-outs at O'Sullivan Park, was all praises for the way the tourney was conducted.

"This year's tournament was the finest thing that I have ever seen done for amateur baseball in this locality. The response was a fine tribute for all the energy spent on this school by men like George Kissell, George Atkinson, Nick Carter, Rev. Edmund Laughlin, Brother Linus, Brother Furman and all the other coaches who helped put the try-out over the top."

TRYOUT DATES

Second and third in the series of amateur baseball tryouts for the Hearst National title are set for the Oval in Worcester at 3 p. m. Wednesday, June 11, and at the Cranston Stadium, Providence, at 10 a. m. on Saturday, June 21.

WINNER—Joe Barry, left, Haverhill High catcher, receives congratulations from his coach, Felix Andrus, for being one of the two players selected to represent the Lawrence-Haverhill area in the Hearst New England Sandlot championship game to be played at Fenway Park July 29. Eagles' Lineup Unsettled For Holy Cross Tilt Monday

By ALEX MacLEAN

Four games remain on the B. C. schedule, two of them with traditional rivals, Holy Cross, yet Coach Fred Maguire has not settled on a definite starting lineup for the tilt with the Crusaders, listed for Monday at Alumni field.

The Eagles will also face Holy Cross on Tuesday (Fittion Field, Worcester), with Bradley Tech on Friday and Amherst on Saturday.

However, Maguire is in a quandary over his catcher, third baseman and outfield trio. Throughout the schedule, during which B. C. has amassed 11 wins in 18 starts, he has continually juggled his lineup in hopes to weld together the strongest possible combination for the four remaining tilts.

Although Eddie King, 230-pound giant, is listed as a reserve receiver, he places the Eagles with a .430 batting average. Johnny Fitzgibbon, freshman catcher, is ranked almost a hundred points below King yet has been behind the plate in all of the 19 games to date.

A better receiver, but lacking the batting ability of King, the ex-B. C. Big All-Scholastic may be unseated before the opening pitch of Monday's fray.

Although benched in the last two games, Johnny Murphy is making a determined bid to regain the third base post. He has been met with equal determination on the part of Johnny Yurewicz, who currently holds the reins.

Yurewicz was the regular short-stop last spring but was sidelined with a bad arm. Ed Clasby, who filled the gap and now sports a .323 batting average while fielding excellently, has that berth sewed up. That pushed Yurewicz over to the hot corner.

Although rated the longest hitter on the squad, Bob Lynch, veteran center fielder, is experiencing trouble returning to the lineup after being benched a few weeks ago. Billy Ryan, John Kineavy and Frank O'Sullivan seem to hold the edge in the outfield scramble.

Frank Shellenbach, who, as a pitcher, has beaten Providence and E. U. in his only outings, has blossomed into an outfielder and also figures in contention for an outfield berth.

Giants' High Standing No Miracle to Mel Ott

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—They're calling Mel Ott the "miracle man" of baseball today but the popular little manager of the New York Giants doesn't believe there is anything miraculous about himself or his ball club.

The one-time home run king of the National League has been in the big time long enough to know that you're a swell guy when you're up there but just a bum when you're in the cellar or close to it.

"We've got virtually the same club as last year but there's one big difference. This outfit is hustling and fighting. They know that nothing's impossible this year and they've got the right spirit," Mel said.

"Last year we got off on the wrong foot, the jumps to the Mexican League, injuries to key players and lack of hustle put us right behind the eight ball."

Ott firmly believes the Giants will be up with the contenders to the very end. Barring injuries, of course.

"This is a good club," Ottie insisted. "There is nothing phony about our being up there. Except for our pitching staff, which I admit up to now has been only fair-to-middlin', we compare favorably with any club in the circuit. Certainly, we ought to outthit them all, and our pitching is bound to improve. Larry Jansen is a good pitcher and Bill Ayres, whom we purchased from Atlanta, is better than he has shown thus far."

Ott said if he were forced to credit any particular players for the Giants' rise, he would select catcher Walker Cooper and rookie centerfielder Bobby Thomson.

"Of course, Johnny Mize is our big gun, but that is no surprise to anybody," Ott said. "If the big guy hadn't been hurt last August, he probably would have led the league in batting, runs batted in and home runs."

"Cooper has been of tremendous help this season. Those two fingers he broke last summer still aren't in perfect shape, but Walk doesn't let a little thing like that bother him. He looks like the Cooper who led the Cardinals to three straight pennants."

"Thomson has been a revelation. He has been a wonderful tonic to the club. And to think at one time I was seriously considering sending him back to Jersey City for another year's seasoning. If Whitey hadn't broken his leg, Tommy probably would be playing for the little Giants now."

Ott believes it is anybody's race. He still fears the Cardinals and thinks the Cubs, Dodgers and Braves will furnish the main opposition.

"The whole thing is too uncertain. The race is a pip, with only about six games separating the first and last place teams. We have just as good a chance as anybody. One thing, I'm certain of though, I've never been with a team as hopped up over its chances as this club is."

34-Pound Striper Hooked

On an Eelskin Off Anthias

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH
Flashes from the saltwater fronts indicate that the striped bass are getting bigger and better—and they're hooked, too. At Martha's Vineyard, Herb Lewis, a local angler, landed the largest catch to date, a 34-pounder on an eelskin, at Anthias. According to Nat Speer, the schools are invading these waters in such numbers that rods are averaging seven each, nightly. The battling bass are also swarming into famed Tashmoor Opening all good-sized fish, hitting both eelskins and seaworms.

In the Buzzards Bay section—best bet for the week-end—Charley Sherer, of the Red Top Bait Co., boated a 32 1/2-pound striped, fishing with Joe Eldridge, captain of the party craft, "The Stripper." The bull struck Charley's Atom Plug like a fullback, off Mashnee Island. Schools are chasing herring and "whities" through the Canal, as we mentioned yesterday.

Trying their luck in the Canal, Al and Art Peiche, Worcester, battled for a nice score. Six specimens, including a 24 1/2-pounder—Stan Knight and Harlow Pope took a total of nine strippers in the Bay, the fish averaging 7 to 16 pounds each. In the Weawantic river, Jack Macia and Gus Turner hooked 18 bass, recently, using worms. Some big ones are also being beached off Popponess, which has been a hot spot for two weeks.

OUTDOOR O. O.'s: The Framingham Sportsman's Ass'n will hold a rifle and pistol shoot, Sunday, rain or shine, on the range in Saxtonville, starting at 9 a. m. Six matches are on the card, with many items of gunner's equipment offered as prizes.

Also on the Sabbath, commencing at 2 p. m., the Attleboro Red Fox Club will have a beacher off Hound and Beagle Show at the club grounds, Fairview ave., Rehoboth, off Rt. 118. There will be classes for pups, Derby males and females, and open events.

A'S IN THIRD PLACE

CLEVELAND, June 6 (AP)

One of the rarest happenings of a June Day had happened today—the Philadelphia Athletics were in third place in the American League. True they were deadlocked with a pair of other clubs, but it hasn't been since 1933 that the Athletics were so high in the pennant race. The Mackies ended their season record at 21-21 yesterday by inflicting a 5-2 reverse on the Chicago White Sox.
